References

References

Brigham, E.J. and Duncanson, G (2000): Case study of 100 horses presented to an equine dental technician in the UK. Equine Veterinary Education 12, pp. 63–67.

References

Couëtil, L (2002): Respiratory Diseases by Clinical Signs. In: Equine Respiratory Diseases, Lekeux P. (Ed.). Department of Veterinary Clinical Sciences, School of Veterinary Medicine, West Lafayette, IN, USA.

Gnemmi, G (2004): Use of ultrasononography for evaluation of bovine teat lesion. 23rd World Buiatrics Congress, Quebec City, Canada, July 11-16.

References

Hill, F.W, Moulton, J.E, Schiff, P.H (1989): Exophthalmos in a horse resulting from an adenocarcinoma of the frontal sinus. J S Afr Vet Assoc; 60:104-105

Johnson, H.W (1943): Submucosal resection, surgical correction and prolapse of the rectum. JAVMA 102:113.

Kay, G (2005): Sialolithiasis in Donkeys. In: Veterinary Care of Donkeys. N. S. Matthews and T. S. Taylor (Eds.)

References

References

References

Wafa, N.S., (1988): A study of dental disease in the horse. Master of Veterinary Medicine, National University of Ireland, University College Dublin, pp. 1–188.

