

BEIJING
FORESTRY
UNIVERSITY

STUDENT
FOLK ORCHESTRA

CULTURAL EXCHANGE
CONCERT

TRACK

Celebration prelude

For the Youth

The whip urges the horse
to be busy with food

The Melody of Black Bamboo

Power of the drum

Jasmine Flower

Joy

Moving Melodies of Southern China

Silk road camel bell

A Moonlit Night on The Spring River

Capriccio of Qin opera theme
&
Horse Race

Blooming Flowers And Full Moon

School Profile

Beijing Forestry University is a national key university directly under the Ministry of Education. In 1996, it was listed as one of the first universities under the "211 Project". In 2008, the school became a pilot university for the national "innovation platform for superior disciplines" construction project. In 2017, the school was selected as one of the world's leading disciplines, and the two disciplines of Forest and Landscape Architecture were shortlisted for the "Double First Class" construction discipline. In 2018, our school has 5 disciplines to enter the top 1% of ESI's global rankings.

Orchestra Introduction

The Student Orchestra of the Beijing Forestry University is a student orchestra with a large scale, a relatively complete compilation, a relatively advanced management level, and a high level of performance. It is one of the important artistic performance teams at the school level. The orchestra was established in April 2000. After years of development, the orchestra has been basically completed and has become one of the few large-scale national orchestras with relatively complete compilations in Beijing universities.

INTRODUCTION TO THE PERFORMANCES

Celebration prelude

The music consists of a warm and fast running sentence and a gong and drumming, and draws a scene of a festival celebration.

Jasmine Flower

Jasmine Flower has distinctive national characteristics with smooth melody and a symmetrical structure containing periodic repetitions.

Send me a rose

This is a distorted adaptation of Xinjiang folk songs, passionate melody and a strong and varied dance rhythm, expressing the passion and cheerful emotions of young men and women in love.

For the Youth

Throughout the music, the composer shows his recollection of his childhood and sincere expectation of a promised future for young generation.

Joy

Joy is a famous folk music in China, with the Chinese traditional instrument erhu (Chinese violin) as the main instrument in the music piece. The rhythm of the song is cheerful and relaxing, full of festival atmosphere.

Power of the drum

The whole song retains the traditional rhythm and performance skills, and shows the unique power and rhythm of Chinese drum.

A Moonlit Night on The Spring River

It depicts a painting that in a tranquil spring night, the moon rises from eastern ocean, boats are traveling across a river and shadows of flowers in the west bank of the river are gently swaying.

The Melody of Black Bamboo

The Melody of Black Bamboo presents an active attitude towards life. The structure of music is flexible and it represents a distinctive style of southern China.

Silk road camel bell

It shows the camel team walking on the ancient Silk Road, the camel ringing, from far and near.

Moving Melodies of Southern China

The theme melody is represented by erhu (Chinese violin) guzheng and pipa with vibrant rhythm, which makes us feel cultures and humanities in Southern China.

Qin Cao Capriccio

Known as the "Qin Pai music" representative works. The song is a loop body style, and has the structural characteristics of the theater plate cavity.

Blooming Flowers And Full Moon

Full moon is the most important symbol of the Mid-Autumn Festival in China. The blooming flowers show an atmosphere of happiness during a time of reunion and the music describes the scene of the joyful dance of Chinese under the full moon during the Mid-Autumn festival.